

Beer & Slider Tasting

The Super Bowl is like an unofficial holiday and should be celebrated accordingly! In our house it's really a "Foodie Fest" with a small portion of our friends excited over which team is going to take home the trophy. Another group is just looking to watch the fun commercials (I'm hoping the work monkeys will be back), but the majority of our super bowl invitees can't wait to try a new appetizer or dessert recipe! Some of them have been planning all year – Too Fun!

This year our foodie fest is inspired by TasteBud Zoe; A Beer & Slider Tasting! We've asked our friends to bring a 6 pack of their favorite beer, and an appetizer or dessert. We'll provide the chips and Sliders. If you want to ensure you have a good variety of beers, you could assign people to bring a certain type of beer like Pale Ale, Belgium, Stout, German, etc. You'll also need to provide small glasses for the "tasting" and chilled glasses for your guests to enjoy the beer of their choice. Coolers or tubs to keep the beer cold and a scorecard for people to vote for their favorite beer! Start your tasting with the lightest beer, move to medium and end with the darkest beer.

Bowls of pretzels, Fritos, tortilla chips or nuts are great accompaniments during the Beer Tasting. A Cheese and Guinness Spread would be a great! And by the way, "The Bowl That Does It All" is perfect for this party – all the chips and dip fit in one bowl – leaving room on your table for the beer, glasses and appetizers that your guests bring. When everyone has selected their "Beer of Choice" bring out the Sliders, put your feet up and enjoy the half-time show! Your friends will cheer when they taste these ridiculously good recipes!

The Bowl That Does It All is available in the "Shop" section of our website. Click here to learn more.
